New York, May 11, 2009 – FashionTV, the worlds only 24/7 television network dedicated entirely to fashion and lifestyle, today announced the launch of its high definition channel FTV HD in the U.S. on DISH Network® (NASDAQ: DISH).

Just like the FTV SD Channel that reaches 350 million homes in 193 countries, FTV HD features the most updated fashion and lifestyle trends from around the world, including exclusive reports on famous fashion houses such as Dior, Armani, Cavalli, Versace, Dolce & Gabbana etc. FTV covers all fashion weeks around the world focusing on Paris, Milan, London, New York, Tokyo and Sao Paolo. On FTV viewers meet celebrities and popular models face-to-face, on and off the stage. From the Oscars to the Red Carpet at the Cannes Film festival - watch out for the upcoming FTV 12 year anniversary VIP party hosted by Paris Hilton.

"After 12 years as the world's leader in fashion television programming, we are pleased to launch FTV HD in the U.S. with DISH Network as our first affiliate relationship," said Michel Adam, President and Founder of FashionTV. "The HD format is perfect for FTV viewers who seek quality, luxury and a premium viewing experience. FTV CEO Yaron Jakubowicz remarked: "One of the main attractions of this launch on DISH Network USA is that we are entering the world's most sophisticated market with a product that meets the highest levels of quality FTV HD delivers the best of the fashion world in 100% diamond clear HD quality".
